Along with their studies, the students of Shanti International School Unjha, began preparing for the Annual Day, and while continuing to perform brilliantly in sports, it demonstrated that SIS Unjha is committed to its students by giving equal importance to both academic and non-academic activities in the school.

The following tasks were carried out by teachers and students together.

- Human Rights Day
- National Farmers Day
- National Consumer Right Day
- Christmas
- Sports
- Tour & travel

CELEBRATIONS AND ACTIVITIES

Human Rights Day

Human rights are rights inherent to all human beings, regardless of gender, nationality, place of residency, sex, ethnicity, religion, color or and other categorization. Human Rights Day is celebrated annually around the world on 10 December every year.

The date was chosen to honor the United Nations General Assembly's adoption and proclamation, on 10 December 1948, of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR).

The children of SIS Unjha actively celebrated this day by performing street plays throughout the city with the goal of informing voters about their responsibilities, emphasizing the importance of voting, and raising voter awareness. Which the students very effectively spread among the people.

"Safety isn't expensive its priceless"

The children from Shanti International School, Unjha performed a really lovely street play on road safety at APMC market yard and bus stop, which was greatly appreciated by the people, to bring safety to the public's attention.

National Farmers Day

National Farmers Day is celebrated to honor and acknowledge the contribution of farmers in our lives. The day is also celebrated as the birth anniversary of Shri Chaudhary Charan Singh, the fifth Prime Minister of India. The first Kisan Diwas was celebrated in the year 2001.

At the special assembly, SISU students performed a play and gave a statement about the life of a farmer while kneeling in homage to him as India's provider of food.

National Consumer Right Day

National Consumer Rights Day means the right to be informed about the quality, quantity, potency, purity, standard and price of goods to protect the consumer against unfair trade practices. The consumer should insist on getting all the information about the product or service before making a choice or a decision.

Childhood experiences and habits become conscious later in life. Teachers educated the students of Shanti International School about consumer rights by involving them in the debate. Not only the students, but also the teachers, took part in the debate, making it even more effective.

Christmas

Christmas is an annual festival commemorating the birth of Jesus Christ, observed primarily on December 25, as a religious and cultural celebration by billions of people worldwide.

On this day, Christmas cards are exchanged, church services are held, a special meal is served, and various Christmas decorations, such as Christmas trees and lights, are displayed.

SISU hosted a drawing competition for children. Children enjoyed playing games and performing cultural programs such as dance and skits. The children received chocolates from Santa Claus. Teachers at the school-built cribs and told the students the story of Jesus' birth.

Sports:

Team SISU, maintained its lead and progressed to the semi-finals of the Patan Baby League football tournament, which began in November. The coach and team have put in a lot of effort. Both the team and the school are looking forward to the upcoming match and anticipate a victory.

School Excursion cum Educational Trip:-

Exploring new places can give you a fresh start if you're recovering from a major transition in your life. Getting out and exploring the world can boost your creativity. People who travel more can come up with diverse ideas. Exposure to new cultures, making friends, studying new languages, and taking in different types of food and music have been linked to better problem-solving skills. Travel helps you see the world in a new way.

At Shanti International School, we believe that for children's overall development, they must be exposed to the outside world and nature as well as bookish knowledge. We planned a one-day trip to Nadabet for classes one and two, and a two-day trip to Jambugoda for classes three to eight. Nadabet is an Indian-Pakistan border town where children visited the Gela Hanuman and Nareshwari temples. The children went to the military's BSF camp in the White Desert, where they enjoyed the museum and the parade. Children at Jambugoda Adventure Camp participated in activities such as campfires, bird watching, tree identification, nature trail and trekking. In the adventure camp, they enjoyed the zip line, double rope crossing, and various games.

PARENT'S TALK

We are so glad to give our opinion of the SIS Unjha as it has been a great time for our children Krishna P. Patel who did in class III and Vani P. Patel in Nursery.

As parents, we want our child to be the best in every field, we live our dreams seeing them grow. Nurture them with fondest care.

Your management and effort of the students looked amazing. When we had admitted our daughters and in this school than we were worried. But now we can say that my daughters are in the safe hands. "My both the children are studying in The SIS Unjha and have grown up progressively. They have shown an immense confidence level in speaking skills. They love to participate in almost all the activities conducted by the school. They got ample opportunity to explore through different concept and theme based activities. Manthan is a wonderful school where teachers teach children sincerely. We are proud to be associated with SIS Unjha. We are thankful to the principal ma'am, teachers, all organisers.

TEACHER'S TALK

Kajal Panchal

My self Kajal Panchal. I am a primary school teacher at Shanti International School. Apart from being the only CBSE School in Unjha, it is also a very reputable school. I am proud and consider myself very fortunate to have the opportunity to nurture the upcoming generations, which I believe works, and is in fact a fundamental need for all nations. Not only is this enough to highlight, but the support, cooperation, and respect I am receiving from this organization is extremely valuable.
